THE principles of right or wrong will reveal themselves in course of time, and this saving is clearly set forth in the History of China, When andue reliance is placed on Measts. DUROST & Co. statement by word of mouth, a good argument is always wanting, and this is what the Book of Changes has always guarded people against. If a man is not guilty of anything seriously wrong, is it likely that he will submit himsel to be killed F With regard to LAI MING CRUN, he is indeed a bare-faced fellow, and one who has no regard for anything. On the 27th day of the 7 Rooms, with Coach House and Stabling. 10th Moon last year (24th November, 1875), he Possession can be had on the 17th March inst. the 15th day of March, 1876, at Noon, on the Blandered Messrs. TEANGSHUN YELL and WOO. LIN TAK by falsely accusing them of being engaged in the nefarious trade of selling people for the purposes of emigration, and that in their transactions they were in fact kidnappera And finally, he recorded the same in the THE PREMISES lately occupied by Town Wan Yat Po (the Universal Circulating THE CHIMA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY Herald), so that Messrs, Thank and Woo Queen's Road. had thought of ening him before the local authorities, so that he might be punished for libelling people's character. Fortunately for bice, bowever, LAT MING OHUN learns in time of his own wrong in slandering the character of good men, and now he has volunturily consented to pay the penulty, of bearing the legal expenses in the sum of $600 and to pay also (into the poor box) $25, for the relief of the Hongkong poor; also, from his funds, to pay costs of inserting in the Chinese and foreign newspapers, three of each, for the period of one month, an article, in order to redeem himself from what he has been guilty of. But this, nevertheless, would not actually be sufficient to cover the enormity of his six The reason why Mesers, Tsano and Woo condescend to these torms was because they had been advised by intimate friends, who urged that, inserned as both parties were Chinamen, how could they, Mesers. Tsand and Woo, baye

It is happened, luckily, that Messrs, Tsano and Woo's magnanimity proved to be as expunsive as the sea and as copioious as the ocean, and it was thus that the matter was put an end to. This is sufficient to show that Mesers. Tsand and Woo are peaceful and quiet men, and that they have done a very good act. But LAI MING CHUN is a man who is very much connected (Zit. the night pedestrian who thinks great deal of himself), and one who falsely dilates in satire and raillery. He began life in Northey, Bathgate, and 10 other gentlemen. In very mean position, and is not of a respectable white). While in a menial position, he, moreover, offends his superiors. Ir is with some surprise but more regret that we notice a tendency in a section of the territory of China, though it would doubtless British Press, and, therefore, of the British thing like a healthy and vigorous foreign policy. A writer in the Fortnightly Review thus gives expression to opinions which resideuts out in the East will feel to be founded on a misconception of the case. He remarks that the Malay Peninsula witnesses the re-telling of an old story. "One reads with pure driving Malays up their own rivers, sending rockets whiszing and crashing through jungle, and bursting in defences and stockades. Even if his were inevitable, it would be worse than inglorious work. So far from being inevitable, it is only the result of action which the best opinion, even in official circles, pronounces thoroughly ill-judged. We interfere in affairs which do not concern us, we send officials to places where they have no business to be, the people of the couplry act just as we might have been sure that they would, and then the nation is committed to one more of these futile encounters. The worst of it is that powerful influences are tending to commit us to a policy in China and elsewhere that would lead avowedly and unmistaliably to an indefinite augmentation of this bad work on a more whole sale scale." As proof that the Fortnightly does not stand alone, comes the intelligence that the other night, in the House of Peers, and dangerous. So long as this policy is Street. That empire is not the growth of a day, nor has it all come by conquest. The later additions have nearly all been poacefully acquired, some unwillingly. But it has in every case been the manifest destiny of the country annexed, and, with very few exceptions, the best results have followed. Weak, vicious, and indolent races must, in the course of nature, succumt to an energetic and enterprising nation, and however little inclined the latter may be to use its giant strength, the former will evontually either claim protection or by dishonesty provoke a struggle the issue of which was never doubtful. > REPUDIATING STATES AND NATIONAL BANKS.

The Economist says :- The Paraguayan bondbolders have just given their approval to a scheme of compromise of their debts, which is probably the best thing they our do, but which may not be so hereficial as a precedent to other bondbolders and the public. The scheme is that a national bank should be set up in purpose; that this bank should enjoy special privileges, smong others that of collecting the revenue of the government; and that, after paying the expenses of the government, the bank should pay 6 per cent interest on the bonds, and redeem the principal by a sinking fund of 3 per cent, per annum. So far as such a scheme is carried out, the bendholders cannot lose, and ascapital for the bank is being found in part by those concerned in the issue of the Paraguayan loans the erection of it by them is in some way a contribution of theirs towards the losses they have been the means of inflicting on the bondbolders. But it is quite ensy to see that if the plan of such banks become general. as there are some signs of its becoming, they can as a rule, offer no real security to the creditors of the countries which posses them if they are otherwise unentitled to credit, that leans to imperfect foreign states based upon the establishment of such banks will be deceptive, and that their establishment will promoters and financies without doing bondbolders any good, and with a great probability of injuring them. MORE ABOUT NEW GUINEA. From a copy of a Report in the Datch language, on the commercial resources of Western New Gulnes, the Arn Isles, and some of the neighbouring islands, addressed to the Commercial Society at Sourabaya by Mr. P. G. L. Hartog, who lately made a voyage thither to ascertain their trading enpablities in the Egeron. a private steamer, the following information is extracted. According to this Report, the W. Coast of New Guinea consists alternately of high land and alluvial tracts. The most westerly portion of this coast is almost exclusively high and, covered with dense forest to within a hundred yards of the sea, and offers no good amboring ground. The many bays and inlete claewhere along that coast in which shipping our safely lie at anchor, are excelled by the broad, deep, and The forests there yield the most varied products, principally the nutmegs. In the forest dwell the mountain Alfuras; along the const of the gulfare about 40 villages containing by estimate 12,000 inhubtante who act as intermediate dealers between the forest Alfaras and few fruits and roots as condiments or delicacies. Mr. Hertog speaks highly of the commercial resources of New Guinea, which he says are nexhaustible. The following translated exports from his report contains particulars of the trade carried on there in forest autmegs and other "In New Gninea nutmegs of different kinds are met with abandantly. Amongst them is the long nulmeg known by dealers under the name of wild or Papuan nutmeg, I found there also the small round nutmeg. The existence of this under Mr. Giles and also by those under Mr. variety was net before known to me. I suppose that it is new to you also. So tar as I am aware has not been supplied by native traders in New Gaines. The discovery of its existence great bed rock of the larger part of Western was accidental, and tracing out its place of origin caused us to make a days journey inland, to a village of at least 8,000 souls. It is said that there are many such populous villages in the interior. This small round nutmer differs slightly from the Banda variety, and is, in any case, of the same good quality as the Amboyna and Menado nutmegs. In the European market the latter are sold at similar rates to these from Banda. I had the pleasure of stripping the mase in the Banda fastion from nuturega gathered by myself in the forest, and I intend to forward to Europe both nut and mace. I shall be very much surprised, should I not be informed that these samples are not valued at east double the price usually paid for the Pauan nameg in consequence of the abell splitting, or cracking (the result of having been gathered nur pe and of faulty our ng). This result I consider more than satisfactory.

"I consider that as there are reasons for the General Post-Office. Hongkong, 3rd March, 1876.

As some misapprehension exists regarding the transmission of Packets and Samples through the Post, it is hereby notified for general information, that the Privilege of sending such articles through the post at the rates of postage applicable to them is restricted to bond fide Trade Patterns or Samples of Merchan. dies. Goods sent for Sale, or in execution of an order (however small the quantity may be), or apy articles sent by one private individual to another which are not actually patterns of namples, are not admissible.

Arrangements having been made unde which Mails for London arriving at Sucz from Ohina by Private Ships will be forwarded to destination via Brindiai, it is hereby notified that the rates of postage, which must be paid in advance, on correspondence addressed to the United Kingdom so forwarded, will be as follows. viz :---

For Letters......24 cents per half ounce For Newspapers...... 8 ,, each. not exceeding lounce 4 cents. For Books and . Patterns .... every additional 4

The rates of postage chargeable on Letters addressed to the United Kingdom, and to places SATURDAY, the 1st April, at 3 P.M., taking beyond the United Kingdom, when forwarded Cargo and Passengers for Japan, the United by French Packet, are the same as those chargeable on Letters forwarded by British Packet vit Brindis.

Connection is made at Yokohama with Steamers from Shangbai. The Post Office of Victoria (Australia) baving given notice to the General Post Office in Lozdon that articles of Jowellery received in that Colony are chargeable with Customs Duties, the undersigned considers it necessary to make this Regulation known to the Public, and to state that any letters or packets containing months are issued at a reduction of 20 per cent. such articles sent through the Post are liable, with their contents, to be forfeited.

Many boxes of letters are received at the Post Office not sealed, that is to say, the box is fastened with sealing wax, but there is no impression of a scal Acting Agent. The attention of boxbolders is called to the necessity of carefully sealing such boxes with some recognisable seal, and of sending a Chitbook or receipt with them. The omission of the latter precaution leaves a doubt as to weather the contents of the box ever reached the Post Office; the omission of the former, as to whether part of them might not have been abstracted for the sake of the Postage Stamps.

There is a common belief in the existence of Parcel Post by which such articles as Fars, Ourios, Silk Dresses, Scarves, Jewellery, Arti, froisl Teeth, &c., can be forwarded at low rates. NENT, Glusgow, and Mesers. DAVID CORAGE & It cannot be too distinctly stated that such things can only be sent as Letters, and the very cheapest rate is 12 cents per half ounce by Private Steamer. All such packages should be Registered (8 cents). If the Parcel be heavy it can be sent through one of the Parcel Expresses conducted by Messrs. LANE, URAWFORD, or Mr. W. H. NOTLEY, which, for anything over 4 or 5 ounces, will be found cheaper than the
